GENERAL NEWS.

The Elections.

CINCINNATI, March 8—Out of twenty-seven towns of Ohio from which returns have been received the republicans have seventeen, democrats seven and independents three.

DETROIT, MICH, April 8—Almost complete returns from 20 of the most populous counties in the state have been received and give Campbell, republican, for justice of supreme court a majority of about 2 500 over Chipman.

TOLEDO, April 8—The success of the nationals in the city election yesterday is fully confirmed by official returns to day. Romeis for mayor has 580 plurality over Jones democrat and 700 over Baumgartner, republican.

Cheyennes on the War Path

WICHITA, KAS, April 8.—Reliable news is received that the Cheyennes are on the war path. They broke away from the camp and started in the direction of western Kansas. Agent Mills and an army officer who went to [illegible] were ordered to leave.

[illegible] Prospects

NEW YORK, April 8 On Tuesday Senator Jones, of Nevada, stated his belief that Grant will be re-nominated and elected, and that the democratic choice lies between Tilden and Thurman with odds favoring Tilden because of his money and ability to lead the campaign.

Railroad Accident.

WINNEMUCCA, NEV, April 8.—At 11 30 yesterday morning the emigrant cars of No. 6 east bound train were detached from the train four miles east of Lonelock station One man was killed. Two other passengers were slightly injured A broken rail was the cause of the accident.

Fremont's Scheme.

NEW YORK, April 8—General Fremont has submitted to the government a plan for bringing the waters of the Gulf of California to their old basin in southern California, which he says would create an inland sea 200 by 50 miles and 200 feet in depth, making the desert a highway for commerce, and greatly improving the climate of Arizona and southern California. Gen Fremont says he has been successful in awaking interest in capitalists and mining interests, and expects good results to follow.

He says the department of the interior promises to restrict the Pima and Maricopa Indians to a smaller reservation on the Salt river than the one recently assigned, and assures him that they shall not in any way interfere with the settlers there. The department meantime will examine his plan for the removal of all the valley Indians of Arizona to a permanent reservation on the Colorado river towards it mouth, and he has hope of its adoption.

FOREIGN.

Rush from Zululand.

LONDON, April 8.—The Standard's dispatch from Capetown says the convoy from Derby was obliged to encamp on the banks of the Intombe river [too full to cross.] Lieut. Harwood and the survivors were encamped on the Luneburg side of the river. Although there had been some previous alarms, the surprise was complete. The sentry only saw the Zulus when they were within 15 paces Lieut. Harwood's men poured a steady fire across the river. The Zulus lost heavily Only fifteen of Capt Moriarity's men escaped across the river. They were sleeping in wagons when attacked. The sentry was the only one who had time to fire The scene of the surprise was in a hollow surrounded by long grass and weeds. The relief column for Ekowe number 5,000 men.

Of the 22,000,000 of silver dollars that have been coined less than 7,000,000 have gone into circulation.

The secretary of the treasury has been so economical in his expenses in placing the four per cent. bonds that he now has $700,000 appropriated for that purpose unexpended and in the treasury.

The story about railroad revolution in yesterday's Tribune was largely the product of the fertile brain of the well-known confidential agent of the Atchison road in this city. The internal resemblance of this "story" to the celebrated muldoon fiction is only too apparent, though it lacks the striking feature of plausibility that surrounded the latter.

The Louisville Courier-Journal is openly pledged for Tilden. It says, "when the head and heart of the democratic masses begin seriously to put themselves together, anything else than the acclamonious re-nomination of the old ticket of 1876 will appear monstrous." That the fiery Watterson should commend and support the inactive Tilden is wonderful and shows the irresistible tendency of the democratic party toward the re-nomination of Tilden.

Among the most influential independents who supported Tilden in 1876 was Prof. W. G. Sumner of Yale. His influence helped largely to carry Connecticut for Tilden. He has acted lately with the republican party. His reasons for doing this is that the republican party is the only one sound on the [illegible]y question. He is also gl[illegible]d with President Hayes' administration and thinks he is better satisfied with Hayes than [illegible] of [illegible] who voted for him.

Speaking of the difficulty over the army bill a prominent southern democrat, according to the Inter-Ocean, said "the northern democrats have put us in this hole: we did not seek it; we only cared really for the repeal of the test oath; but the northern democrats said in caucus that they could not carry Ohio and New York unless the supervisor law was repealed, and we were forced into this business." The southerner appears to us unfair. He should certainly aid the northern democrat in stuffing the ballot box, if he expects the northern democrat to aid him in bulldozing negroes.

The article in yesterday's Tribune on the railroad revolution is simply ridiculous. It is sensational and untruthful. The Denver & Rio Grande road has always been law-abiding. Though it sent the first men into the grand canon in the fight a year ago and held every important position, yet it quietly obeyed the orders of the courts, though knowing perfectly well that justice was on their side. The Tribune is altogether more zealous in the work of aiding a foreign corporation to rob and plunder one of our own Colorado roads, and we are quite sure that it will soon find its mistake.

It is a somewhat humiliating spectacle to see a powerful foreign corporation come into this state and by force and coercion compel a domestic and local company to submit to its dictations and thus in violation of the constitution and laws of this state and the dignity of its people and government secure control of competing lines and railways to the manifest injury of the people of the state not to mention the flagrant discriminations in rates between different sections and in favor of certain merchants. This is one of the things our constitution and laws wisely provide against, but what if the law remains a dead letter?

PUNIC FAITH.

We have frequently called attention to the fact that the Atchison road in its negotiations with the D. & R. G. has been faithless. To show this we publish the following documents in parallel columns. When the Speare-Palmer agreement was made a provision stating that the D. & R. G. stock was to belong to and be held as an asset of the P. & A. V. R. R. was omitted at the special request of President Nickerson who gave the following letter in its place to General Palmer. The importance of this is obvious. As the D. & R. G. proposed to lease its road to the Atchison, General Palmer as representative of of the stockholders of the D. & R. G., was unwilling to place a majority of its stock in the hands of the Atchison road and hence required that the stock should belong to the Pueblo and Arkansas Valley railroad. Besides in return, stock in the P. & A. V. road was received so that the D. & R. G. stockholders would still have a large interest in the D. & R. G. stock exchanged with the P. & A. V.

Now in direct violation of the private letter of Mr. Nickerson to General Palmer, of October 19, quoted below, showing that the entire transaction was based on that understanding and without which the lease would not have been made, Mr. Nickerson, as a director of the P. & A. V., and one of its executive officers on November 25 secured the passage of resolutions by the board of directors of that road which turned this stock over to the Atchison company. And Mr. Speare on the next day gives a declaration to the Atchison road that he holds stock in trust for them. These facts were not known to General Palmer or the D. & R. G. Company at the time the former deposited the stock with Coolidge, and the latter ratified the lease; nor were they known at the time possession was given to the Atchison. And it was not known until late in February, when the papers filed by the Atchison road in the Supreme court revealed the fraud.

The man who steals a horse by depositing counterfeit money in trust and thereby gets conditional possession of the animal naturally fears "every man an officer" when the real character of the currency is discovered. It appears to be the same with the party who undertakes to steal a railroad in the same manner as witness the warlike preparations at our depot and all along the line. The documents are as follows:

BOSTON, Oct. 19, 1878.
W. J. Palmer, Esq.

DEAR SIR: I prefer for reasons which I have verbally explained to you that the agreement between Mr. Speare and yourself in regard to the exchange of P. & A. V. R. R. stock for that of the D. & R. G. Co. and other matters should n t include as in your draft any reference to the fact that all of the D. & R. G. stock delivered to Mr. Speare shall belong to and be held as an asset of the P. & A. V. R. R. Co. But as this question is of serious consequence to every holder of D. & R. G. stock and as you have executed the contract with Mr. Speare and the lease to the A. T. & S. F. R. R. Co with the understanding that all of such D & R G. stock or exchange [illegible] shall so belong to and [illegible] as an asset of [illegible] trust for the P. & A. V. R. R. I will here say confidentially for the present that a paper is being prepared between the A. T. & S. F. Co and P. & A. V. Co. and Mr. Speare to give effect to the above understanding and provide for creating such trust a copy of which I will send when ready.

Yours truly.
THOS. NICKERSON.

AGREEMENT OF ALDEN SPEARE.

I, Alden Speare, do hereby certify, acknowledge, and declare that eight thousand five hundred and two shares of the capital stock of the Pueblo and Arkansas Valley railroad company's standing in my name on the books of said company, are held by me in trust for the purposes of my agreement with William J. Palmer, dated October 19th, 1878, and for the use and benefit of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, and I hereby agree at any time and times on the written request of the executive committee of said Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, to transfer to such person or persons as they may name, so many of said shares as they shall so request. And I further agree to pay to the treasurer or assistant treasurer of said Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company as soon as received all sums of money received by me as dividends on said stock so held by me, and also on the stock of the Denver and Rio Grande railway company, that I may receive in exchange for the stock of the Pueblo and Arkansas Valley railroad company as provided in said agreement aforesaid, belonging to said Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, and to vote or give proxies to vote upon such shares of said The Pueblo and Arkansas Valley Railroad company and Denver and Rio Grande Railway company, standing in my name as aforesaid, as the executive committee of said Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company shall in writing request.

And to the faithful performance of these agreements I bind myself, my heirs and representatives.

Witness my hand and seal the 26th day of November, A. D. 1878.

The Senate in 1860.

As I have already stated Jefferson Davis during those old days before the war was regarded as the leader of the southern element. From this, however, it must not be inferred that he was their representative man on the floor of the senate. Such was not the case, the distinction in question being accorded to Benjamin of Louisiana, and at times to Toombs of Georgia. Benjamin, a Jew of great natural ability and deep reading, was universally regarded as the most finished orator, the keenest and sharpest debater on the democratic side, and when great questions were discussed he was generally pitted against Fessenden—acknowledged to be the best speaker on the republican side. To this day old residents of the capital are ever ready to discuss the relative merits of the two champions, and such disputes usually end in a compromise, by which it is agreed that Benjamin was the most finished and Fessenden the readiest and most quick-witted.

When Toombs took the floor on the Democratic side fearless "Ben." Wade, "Little Wade," as his admirers called him, was always expected to represent the republicans, and he rarely failed to give the fullest satisfaction. Even Toombs himself big blustering, overbearing rebel that he was, and still is—was afraid of him; how much afraid the following incident will illustrate. One afternoon, during the very height of the secession movement, Toombs took the floor, and in a speech of extraordinary bitterness denounced northern men as cowards, was particularly offensive in his allusions to Senator Douglas, and concluded by ins[illegible]inating very plainly that the republic[illegible] senators were [illegible] courage to de[illegible] their manho[illegible] honor. Hardly [illegible] the words [illegible]ed when Wade, [illegible]ering with [illegible], cried out [illegible]: "Does the senator from Georgia i[illegible] to apply his pres[illegible] remarks to me?"

"Oh, no; not at all," replied Mr. Toombs, greatly confused. "I have always had the most profound respect for the honorable senator from Ohio."

It was in many respects a grand old senate which Ben Wade, and Fessenden, and Chandler, Cameron, Sumner, Seward, Trumbull, John P. Hale, and the other republican senators tried to hold together, but which "the three thieves," Davis, Clay, Toombs, Wigfall, and the other rebels succeeded in breaking up. The names of nearly all the men who composed it have since become familiar to every American citizen. Andrew Johnson, one of its members, became president and another, Henry Wilson, was elected to the vice-presidency. Three of its members, Seward, Cameron, Fessenden, became members of President Lincoln's cabinet. Harlan held a portfolio under Johnson, and Chandler under President Grant, while four of the rebels, Toombs, Hunter, Benjamin, and Mallory served in the so-called cabinet of Jeff Davis. Baker, of Oregon, fell at the head of his troops, gallantly fighting to preserve the Union he loved so well, while Clingman, Iverson, Chesnut, Toombs and Wigfall joined the army of "brigadiers" who supported "the lost cause." The venerable Crittenden, who sought in vain to keep the Union together, served afterward in the lower house, while Sumner, Wade, Chandler, Trumbull, Wilson, Hale, and Anthony continued in the senate. Trumbull, Doolittle, Dixon, Foster, and Wilkinson lost "the faith which was in them" and sank into obscurity. Anthony has never left the senate, Hamlin and Chandler have been returned and are now serving in it. Bayard and Cameron have resigned their seats in favor of their sons. Benjamin is an exile in England, is said to have one of the largest and most remunerative law practices in London. Trumbull failing to elect Tilden, has retired to practice law in Chicago. Jeff. Davis, alive by the magnanimity of a too generous people, is in Mississippi waiting for something to turn up. Toombs is practicing law and making rebel speeches in Georgia; Ten Eyck is living quietly in New Jersey, Harlan is in Iowa. Hunter is the state treasurer of Virginia, Yulee is in Florida, and during the last winter was an unsuccessful candidate for election to the senate.

Of the republicans who so nobly served their country in those dark days just before the war, death has taken Fessenden, Sumner, Seward, Hale, Foot, Wilson, Collamer, Simmons, King, Dixon, Wade, Bingham, Durkee, Grimes, Baker, Crittenden, and Johnson, while of the democrats and rebels there have died Thomson, Pearce, Mason, Hammond, Bragg, Fitzpatrick, Nicholson, Slidell, Kennedy, Sebastian, Powell, Green, Pugh, Bright, Mallory, Iverson, Hemphill, Wigfall, Polk, and Brown. In spite of all these changes, however, in spite of the war, in spite of what was popularly regarded as the complete success of the Union arms and the crushing out of the rebellion, notwithstanding the fact that the slaves were made free, and in spite of the further fact that Iverson, Mallory, Mason, and Slidell have died, in spite of the fact that Jefferson Davis is living in retirement, in spite of all these things, the senate of the United States, the chief law making power of the nation, is again completely in the power of the same party, the same section, and the same sentiment which controlled it on that memorable winter morning 18 years ago.

Washington Correspondence of N. Y. Times.

The following table from a recent report of the bureau of statistics shows the domestic exports of wheat during the last ten years:

Calender years.	Bushels	Invoice values	Average per bushel
1869	34 [illegible]	$45,[illegible]034	$1.[illegible]022
1870	33 547 977	40 [illegible]	1 21.012
1871	34,[illegible] 760	4[illegible]	1.45 428
1872	2[illegible],465	38,[illegible]	1 34 118
1873	[illegible]	[illegible]	1 [illegible]
1874	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1875	51,[illegible]	62,[illegible]	[illegible]
1876	[illegible]	[illegible] 710	1.14 734
1877	49,[illegible]	67,[illegible] 505	1.36.[illegible]
1878	109,[illegible] 616	125,[illegible] 557	1.14 381
Totals,	[illegible],912	$640,[illegible]	$[illegible]541

The large exports of last year appear great when compared with other years during the last decade, but appear still greater when we remember that the exports from 1820–00 were only 102,280,496 bushels, or 7,000,000 less than in the single year of 1878.

The Fate of a Herd of Buffaloes.

An army officer who recently arrived in Chicago from the Yellowstone Valley tells a story of what happened to a herd of buffaloes as they were migrating south ward The herd numbered two thousand five hundred head, and had been driven out of Milk River country by Indian hunters belonging to Sitting Bull's band When they reached the river they ventured upon the ice with their customary confidence, coming upon it with a solid front, and beginning the crossing with closed ranks. The stream at this point was very deep When the front file, which was stretched out a quarter of a mile in length, had nearly gained the opposite shore, the ice suddenly gave way under them Some trappers who were eye-witnesses of the scene said it seemed as if a trench had been opened the whole length of the column. Some four or five hundred animals tumbled into the opening all in a heap Others fell in on top of them and sunk out of sight in a twinkling By this time the rotten ice was breaking under the still advancing herd The trappers say that in less than a minute the whole body of buffaloes had been precipitated into the river They were wedged in so thickly that they could do nothing but struggle for a second and then disappear beneath the cakes of ice of the swift current Not a beast in all that mighty herd tried to escape, but in a solid phalanx they marched to their fatal bath in the "Big Muddy" In a minute from the time the first ice broke not a buffalo's head or tail was to be seen Exchange

A Question of Damages.

Some lawyers take very practical views of cases in which they are retained In a certain town in Missouri, Squire G. was defending a charge of malpractice. A man was sueing for damages, his wife having died shortly after an operation for the removal of cancer When it came Squire G—'s turn to cross examine the plaintiff, he asked "Mr. Wilson, how old was your wife when she died?"

"About 45, sir."

"Been in feeble health a long time, had she not, Mr. Wilson, and cost you a great deal for medicine and help?"

"Yes, sir

"You have married again, have you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"How old is your present wife?

"About 35, sir."

"Is she stout and healthy, Mr. Wilson?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then, Mr. Wilson, will you please state to this jury how you are damaged in this case?"

Mr. Wilson had evidently never taken this view of the matter, and could make no answer. The good and true men thought he had rather a good thing by his bereavement, and brought in a verdict for the defendant. —Harper's Magazine for April.

"[illegible]'s Life in [illegible]"

A little freckled faced ten-year-old schoolboy stopped at the post-office the other day and yelled out.

"Anything for the Murphys?"

"No, there is not."

"Anything for Jane Murphy?"

"Nothing."

Anything for Ann Murphy?"

"No."

"Anything for Tom Murphy?"

"No sir, not a bit."

"Anything for Terry Murphy?"

"No; nor for Pat Murphy, nor Dennis Murphy, nor Pete Murphy, nor Paul Murphy, nor Bridget Murphy, nor for any Murphy, dead, living, unborn, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, franchised or disfranchised, naturalized or otherwise. No, sir, there is positively nothing for any of the Murphys, either individually, jointly, severally, now and forever, one and inseparable."

The boy looked at the postmaster in astonishment, and said

"Please to look if there is anything for for me teacher, Clarence Murphy" Philadelphia North American.

The bridesmaids of the Princess Louise Margaret had to pay somewhat dearly for the honor of appearing in this capacity These young ladies were informed that in order to insure uniformity their dresses must be made for them by a modiste who charged them fifty guineas each, and that they were to be coiffeed by one artist In addition to this they were each required to give a check of fifty guineas to buy a present for her royal highness.

If our London namesake may be believed this is the way in which things are done in London A young lady was sitting with a gallant captain in a charmingly decorated recess On her knee was a diminutive niece, placed there to play propriety. In the adjoining room, with the door open, were the rest of the company Says the little niece, in a jealous and very audible voice, "Auntie, kiss me too" We leave you to imagine what had just happened. "Kiss me too is not good grammar my dear, say kiss me twice," was the rejoinder.—N. Y. World.

HOT SPRINGS,

MAHONVILLE,

LAKE COUNTY, COLORADO.

PROPRIETORS,

REV. JOSEPH ADAMS, MRS. J. A. D. ADAMS, Homœopathic Physician, and MR. G. K. HARTENSTEIN, Attorney at Law, Leadville

The Springs are situated at the mouth of Cottonwood Canon, in a most beautiful country, salubrious atmosphere surrounded by scenery of the most gorgeous description, being in the very heart of the grand range of the Rocky Mountains, Mount Yale lying immediately to the north and Princeton, south, while the crystal waters of the Cottonwood river (abundant with trout), twist, turn, leap, and plunge into the Arkansas about six miles from the Hot Springs.

The medicinal virtues of these springs have not been fully tested, but after an experience of five years they have been found to be a specific for catarrh, rheumatism and leaded persons; also highly beneficial for sore eyes, indigestion, dyspepsia, and all scrofulous affections. The above proprietors have only recently purchased these springs, and at present can only accommodate about a dozen persons We are now busy in erecting a building which will enable us to entertain about fifty patients and hope to be ready in about three months from date.

A very comfortable bath house has just been completed, adjoining the house, so that the most delicate can now bathe without exposure to colds.

TERMS

Our present terms are $2 per day or $10 per week, including baths for those who are able to help themselves, but those requiring an assistant will be charged accordingly No reasonable effort will be spared to make all comfortable and happy.

All quiet on the Monument last night

Mr H I Blake of the Fremont County Record was made the happy father of a son —weight 8½ pounds on April 7

Yesterday Messrs True & Sutton shipped 114,500 pounds of merchandise to Leadville On the day before their shipments were 90,000 pounds

Mr A A McGovney who has been representing this county at the state convention of county assessors held in Denver on Monday returned to the city yesterday

No freight trains were run last night on account of the railroad war Evidently the Atchison road intends us to believe there is a war whether there is or not

Mr A J Downing has commenced the erection of his beef packing establishment near the south-east corner of town It will be quite complete in all its appointments

Many of our readers, who have occasion to use the rickety bridge over the Fountain on the Cheyenne road, will be glad to learn that it will be inspected to-day by the county commissioners.

Senator Jones of Nevada, Delegate Elkins, and Mr. Dorsey, mining expert, passed through on the D & R. G yesterday on their way to Leadville and Georgetown for the purpose of examining a promising Colorado mine with a view towards investment

The case of Cowell vs. the Colorado Springs Company, involving the right of possession of the property on the south-east corner of Tejon street and Pike's Peak avenue will probably be decided by the supreme court of the United States within sixty days.

Rumors apparently based upon reliable information are current of the discovery of rich gold and silver ores at various points around town We forbear a comment at present upon the many things that we have heard respecting these discoveries but we have confidence that something will grow out of them

We call special attention to the advertisement of the sale of property belonging to the "El Paso County Building and Loan Association." Much of the property is very desirable and is sold simply to close up the business of the association It will afford one of the best opportunities to buy property that has been afforded this season

Among the recent arrivals in town we notice the name of Peter Herdic Esq of Williamsport, Pennsylvania who has been for many years identified with the great lumber interests of the Upper Susquehanna in that state Mr Herdic expresses himself as delighted with Colorado Springs, particularly with its anti liquor laws and predicts a brilliant future for the place

The Conant brigade now guarding the depot buildings here are shivering with fear over an expected attack of the spooks that nightly haunt the willow thicket along the raging Monument It is rumored that a daring charge will be made by the whole force, upon the wind mill some time this week Unless the prevailing gales subside the result of the battle will be exceedingly doubtful

H Halthusen returned on Sunday from the east where he has been purchasing mules and horses His purchases were made in Shelby and Monroe counties Missouri, and numbered 65 splendid mules and horses They arrived here on Monday and yesterday sales of 12 were effected Mr Halthusen has been one of the most honorable and successful stock dealers in the country No one gets 'stuck' who patronizes him

Messrs Gardens and Rodgers have been prospecting in the vicinity of Colorado Springs for some time for brick clay and believe that they have discovered a bed of a quality suitable for first class bricks They will commence operations in a short time These gentlemen have had an experience of twenty years in the manufacture of bricks in Ohio and are confident that they can make a better article than has ever been made in this place

Personal

Mr Ralph King, of Cleveland Ohio is at the National

Mrs Dr. Gove, of Creston, Iowa and her daughter are now visiting with General Danford and lady of this city

Mr J. A Nichols, of the N W Stage Co, has just returned from quite an extended trip through the states of Wisconsin Iowa and Nebraska

The Great Conspiracy

The Santa Fe organs are terribly excited over a report that the D & R G road will take lawless possession of the narrow gauge road It seems to us this fear is foolish If the D & R G road attempt thus in a lawless way the entire public sentiment of the state will be against such an action So that the Atchison road have nothing to fear if it has right and justice on its side

The sensational reports of the affair in the Chieftain and Tribune are simply amusing and for the interest of those who have not read them we republish a few extracts The Chieftain thus lays bare the foul conspiracy — The true motive of the conspiracy was not discovered until Sunday last, when it leaked out that arrangements were made to have an armed force at South Pueblo last (Monday) night to seize the round house and train dispatcher's office take possession of a train and to run a large force of armed men up to capture the Grand Canon Another part of the plan was to arrest the employes of the road who were not favorable to the Palmer party and to fill their places with their own creatures

The Tribune on the other hand lashes itself into a fit of virtuous indignation and says Outside and above all this however is the question of public order and law If the lease has been violated it can be invalidated in the courts There can be no excuse for violence or trickery which involves the stoppage of public business a dangerous tampering with the mails and the probability of an armed conflict Any such course will definitely damn the Denver & Rio Grande men in the minds of the public It will inevitably create the impression that there is no merit in their case or else they would submit it to the even and orderly processes of law It will bring upon their heads the responsibility of any blood which may be shed in an attempt to illegally seize the property which they have legally demised, and which demise they have thoroughly ratified by allowing the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe to hold possession of the line for four months. It will disgrace the state abroad by sending out a virtual acknowledgment that the law is so lax within our borders that force and chicanery are more potent than the courts to redress an alleged wrong' The Tribune closes its terrible philippic based on the most shadowy and unfounded rumors with the quaint remark, "It is to be hoped the rumors are exaggerated Heaven help the state if they are not

The Denver News says that, 'When Judge Hallett returned from Leadville last week he purposely came by the way of Canon City visited the canon and saw the armed force These facts are well known to those who take the trouble to investigate them, and the News predicts that the public will have sufficient proof of these assertions before many days ' This testimony will be considered worth as much as the broad sweeping denials of the Tribune Chieftain, and our amiable friend, the Mountaineer

While it has been blowing furiously here for the past few days it has been raining as furiously throughout central and eastern Kansas The rain is greatly appreciated there as winter wheat has been suffering for the want of it for some time. Our townsman Mr Copley who returned from Kansas about a week ago reported very dry weather and a poor outlook for crops in consequence The late heavy rainfall will doubtless set everything all right again within our flourishing neighbor's boundaries

Building improvements are still going on with the most encouraging energy In addition to nearly a hundred thousand dollars worth of new houses, additions to old ones are being made without number and a bird's eye view of the town from the belfry of the school house reveals a gratifying array of new roofs which are the best indications of our present prosperity Our population cannot be less than five thousand and at the present rate of increase that number will be doubled within the next two years Another sign of the prosperity of the city is observable in the lawn and garden embellishments now going on Hundreds of beautiful lawns are being cultivated trees of various kinds planted and on every hand we see evidences of the presence of as large a number of prosperous and cultivated people as any town of its size can boast of

The correspondent of the Denver News at Pueblo sent the following interesting items to yesterday's paper, As an evidence of the glorious advantages of having the Banana monopoly here, one of our largest implement dealers ships his freight to River Bend and hauls it in wagons to this point as it costs I understand, about thirty odd dollars more to ship freight here by the car load than is charged by the same road for the same freight to Denver I am credibly informed that a force of armed men was placed in the Denver and Rio Grande round house last night by the Santa Fe with instructions so said, to shoot anyone attempting to remove an engine This company has sixty in Canon City twenty three here thirty in Colorado Springs and a force in Denver under arms This is over and above the large force they have in the canon and on the heights in that locality What this armed militia is for, no one seems to know It cannot be to enforce any law, as the civil authorities have met with no resistence

Rarus to Come

A few days ago we announced that Mr Splan's stable consisting of Rarus Sweetzer, Adelaide, and other famous trotters were to be on our fair grounds to give an exhibition soon We are glad now to make a more positive and definite announcement Parties representing Mr Splan have been here and have arranged for a two days trot The programme will be as follows

A New Restaurant

Mr W H Kenney opened his new restaurant yesterday It is situated under the El Paso club on Pike's Peak Auenue It is first class in all its appointments and will be a great addition to the accommodations of the city The main dining room is large well lighted and neatly furnished In the rear of the main dining room is a private dining room for the use of the members of the El Paso club Not the least interesting feature of the establishment is the well appointed and convenient kitchen It is furnished with a Philadelphia broiler, which has the reputation of cooking luscious steaks, two large ranges, excellent cupboards and convenient washing arrangements A visit to the kitchen can hardly fail to whet the appetite of Mr Kenney's guests

Mr Kenney will keep a first class restaurant in every respect. His table will be completely furnished with all the delicacies of the season Those who have boarded with him know how excellently all his food is prepared and served. Not the least attractive feature of the restaurant is the presence of courteous and experienced waiters The restaurant was well patronized yesterday and we bespeak for Mr Kenney the large patronage which his place will deserve

Wool

The following remarks and quotations regarding wool we take from Coates Brothers' circular of April 1st "The present wool season is now nearly over The clip of 1878 has been almost all marketed and gone to consumers very little is now left here unsold and reports from all parts of the country assure us that there is but little remaining there Consumers who need supplies before new wool will be ready are looking about and gradually cleaning up the market The few consignors who have been ordering their wool held above market values are generally now desirous of closing up the year's business There has therefore been a fair amount of sales during the past month but they have been largely of undesirable wools in fact there is now but little good wool left On some grades quotations are practically nominal, as they are almost out of stock New wool is now being talked about, and it seems to be the general opinion that the price will open low in the country and while it may be advanced a little in some sections by over sanguine buyers, yet the clip will generally be bought early at moderate values It will arrive here on a bare market and probable meet with a fair demand from manufacturers We therefore look for a reasonably prosperous season for shippers

Colorado and New Mexican wools have lately been in good demand, and are closely sold up with very little arriving The market is firm on them at a slight advance on some grades It will be some time yet before the new clip can reach here from these far distant sections but we look for a prompt trade for it when it does come

County Commissioners

Yesterday the county commissioners met and allowed a large number of bills which we could not obtain for publication There was a hearing of the sheep men regarding the appointment of a sheep inspector and finally a consideration of the subject was postponed until the regular meeting in July

The clerk was ordered to advertise for proposals for building a bridge over the Monument near De France gulch

The commissioners adjourned until to day, when an examination of the bridge over the Fountain on the Cheyenne road will take place

The Denver Tribune gives the following account of a shooting scrape at Alma Saturday evening about half past eight o'clock the report of five pistol shots was heard on the streets of Alma It seems that Bill McDonald a rather hard character that lately came to Colorado he claims from Wyoming and Alexander Mackey had a dispute over a game of poker during the afternoon Mackey not wishing any trouble, proffered to refund McDonald his money which he had won But McDonald wanted a quarrel instead of money and offered his time check of about forty five dollars for a revolver He made the offer to a number of parties but as they knew by his constant threats that he wanted the revolver to shoot two or three men it was not until after 8 o clock that he succeeded in buying one Soon after getting the revolver McDonald met Mackey on the sidewalk on Main street and fired at him The ball missed Mackey but went through a bed room in the Alma Hotel Mackey fired next Then McDonald fired and ran Mackey followed and fired two more shots only one of which took effect It entered the back of McDonald near the shoulder and glanced down lodging in the body at some place where Dr Ramey could not reach it and who does not know whether it will cause death or not Mackey generally known as Humpy was arrested Saturday night and had his preliminary examination Sunday morning and was released from custody on the ground that he acted in self defense McDonald was taken to a hotel, where he now is, unable to get ' He boasts of being one of the Union Pacific train robbers and asserts that the whole gang are his friends and that he has been in shooting scrapes before He is light complexioned, wears short red whiskers is about five feet eight inches in heighth and either blind or crippled in one eye

Leadville News

From the Chronicle we clip the following items of interest

The three new freight lines organized at Denver are now on the road

Freighters to Ten Mile were scarce this morning at five cents per pound offering

At least fifteen thousand people buy their supplies in Leadville.

Lot contests are beginning to engage the attention of the courts

Several parties left yesterday to try their luck in the Granite gold district.

Ore and bullion is now being carried to Colorado Springs, or the end of the South Park track, for sixteen dollars per ton

There are upwards of two hundred tons of ore sacked and ready for shipment at the sampling works of Eddy & James

A new freight train of ten wagons with six mules to each is now making its first trip to Leadville having loaded at Denver about a week since A gentleman who has seen the outfit says it is the finest equipped train on the road It will arrive in this city about Saturday

The Black Prince mine, on the western slope of Bald mountain is said to have ore that assays eight hundred ounces in silver and twelve ounces in gold

The city is in debt about eighteen hundred dollars When the license fixed for saloons has been collected, we should be able to pay off and have several thousand dollars in the treasury The surplus funds should be immediately expended in cleaning up the city

When two teams meet on the Ten Mile road the one having the lightest load is unhitched the horses thrown down in the snow the wagon stacked up on the trail when the up freighter pulls by and all hands turn to and put the wreck together

A miner in from Ten Mile last evening says there have been numerous strikes in that district of late

The postoffice force worked all night and at seven o clock this morning they had not finished their labors

It is said that twenty thousand people are preparing to fold their tents in the southern states and move to Leadville

MINING NOTES.

The large roasting furnace of the Golden works of six tons daily capacity, was cooled on yesterday, it having served a term of six months The bed contains about $8 000 and will be run through the smelter The new roaster will be ready for service in about eight days when the water jacket smelter will also be started Transcript

We understand that Mr. Wulsten is starting up the Bunker Hill mine again This mine is situated about 3 000 feet west from the celebrated Bassick mine and was discovered by Mr Wulsten upon the courses he obtained while doing some engineering in the Bassick mine Mr Wulsten tells us that he obtained assays out of the Bunker Hill showing 897 ozs in silver and 163 ozs in gold for which Mr Coombs, the assayer can vouch The Bunker Hill is down 64 feet and has a pay streak of low graded galena iron pyrites copper pyrites with zincblend (gold bearing) 16 inches wide and carrying from 20 to 24 ozs in silver, 44 to 50 per cent in lead, 25 in gold and from 3 to 6 per cent copper The mine will be sunk down 140 feet to its first level and the proprietor is sure of having one of the largest products of ore in the Bunker Hill within a month's time Silver Cliff Miner

The Inter-Ocean of a recent date gives the following notes regarding the new mining country near El Dorado Kansas

Gold quartz rock has recently been discovered at Little Dutch thirty miles south of this place The rock is twenty two feet beneath the surface of the soil The assays show it to be very rich one assay showing $236 000 to the ton of rock $2 000 to the ton is what the lowest assay shows

"The Gold Ore Mining Company of Kansas has been organized with a capital of $16 000 000 to begin with '

This is a very attractive statement to the prospector but such as are on their way to Colorado and the producing states and territories will do well not to change their course until reliable expert testimony is received on this discovery
